XMax is an all-in-one development ecosystem which makes it easier for entertainment industry developers to create DAPPs. We believe in the future of blockchain technology and know that by providing developers with a set of easy to use tools and the knowledge to use them we can share blockchain applications with a global user base. XMax is a blockchain and developer ecosystem for building decentralized games and entertainment DAPPs. Our blockchain supports game developers with a high TPS mainchain and integrated sidechains for transaction-intensive DAPPs. XMax Includes: Game & Entertainment DAPP SDK, APIs, Smart Contract and DAPP Templates, 3D Game Engine, Developer Docs & Education. With XMax developers can program complex DAPPs (Blockchain APPs) using WebX.js, a JavaScript type language which our team created to simplify blockchain programming. With WebX.js developers can focus more on creating great applications and less on blockchain infrastructure. Once a DAPP has been created, users will be able to easily download it from the XMX APP Store. We make this experience as simple as opening your phone. XMax is a decentralized ecosystem which allows DAPP developers to involve users in the design process and via Asset Tokens crowdfund the development of their projects. We believe the future of blockchain technology belongs to developers and users.

(This is in reply to Sidney Shaw's comment/review) [Post from XMAX] it's great to see your interest in the project, let's go through these points one by one: Xmax (XMX) was a gaming backed platform token: XMAX was originally an entertainment blockchain project. We provided a 2D/3D game engine to use with blockchain games, a wallet app, launched a test net, posted on Git Hub, and explored partnerships with major gaming companies, etc. Our background was in online gaming, so it was a good fit for the project professionally. Literally gave up overnight and became a mining backed token: To offer the kind of blockchain gaming experiences that people want, we believe we still need to see the efficiency and the adoption of the technology grow some more. There are already great projects in the gaming arena, such as Enjin and LOOM. However, the industry still needs to push things further before the market is ready for larger-scale blockchain gaming experiences close to what we have in traditional games. So when cryptocurrencies crashed in 2018, we had a tough choice to make, and instead of risk closing the project, we started working on an area of Blockchain that is mature and generates revenue, Bitcoin Mining. Mining allowed us to use our corporate operations experience to build a large network of miners, develop mining apps, and even help other companies mine. Where are the miners backing the XMAX Token: The project directly had over 30,000 miners at one point that were verified by a 3rd-party auditing company (Standard and Consensus), we also helped partners mine Bitcoin the number of miners operated for our partners is even larger than the project mining activity. We posted videos of the process, you can go on our YouTube channel and watch team members discuss the miners, see the mines and there were even live streams of us visiting mines in various places in China, (Lan Zhou, and Inner Mongolia mostly, but a lot of mining happens in Sichuan also). <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCjbVJL9XshG4OybUMynK9ig> https://twitter.com/xmax_xmx At one point, we were using newly mined Bitcoin from our project miners to repurchase project tokens. These purchases were done through verifiable token burn addresses and could be tracked on our announcements. After mining revenue slowed with a fall in the price of BTC, we shifted our focus to using XMX to enable partners to mine more effectively, specifically using it in miner management applications like (<https://handymining.io>) and in our mining pool which is a partnership with HuoBi (<https://xmx.pool.com>). I asked Bitmain, however they are not involved even though the XMAX website uses their logo: We are large clients of Bitmain, both as a company and through our mining operation partners, we have purchased and purchase large quantities of miners from them. If you have questions you can contact us directly and we'll provide you with the contact for our account manager. We also clients of MicroBT. Bitmain makes great miners and we're glad to offer their miners to our clients. No team, just a hidden foundation: Our foundation is in Singapore (XMAX FOUNDATION PTE LTD.) and can be searched online. We are currently in the process of sharing information on some of our major shareholders. And for the team, if you've followed our project through the years, you'll see that we even went on National Television in Korea (back when we were an entertainment project with some of our team members). Further, we continue to manage miners, develop our app (<https://handymining.io>), work on our mining pool (<https://xmx.pool.com>), and continue developing the project, so it's essential to have a team for this. From the Chinese language in your Reddit post you're likely familiar with projects that have operations in China, most blockchain projects with offices or operations in China do not have many public team members. As a mining company, we have some mining operations in China and hope that one day our developers and staff would like the public attention, but for the moment, we won't force them to be publicly listed on our website. For now, you can judge us based on the products listed in this response and the videos and information posted on social media. And if you ever want to see some of our mining operations or let us help you set up hardware and professional hosting you have an open invitation to join us, just email or contact us through our website <https://xmx.com> And finally want to say that projects and businesses change; if we had stayed as an entertainment blockchain project, we might not be here today to respond to your questions. We will add to our services and potentially change our services in the future as well. This is what we've learned from our experiences and what we believe will work best for our project community. Xmas has become a scam token. It may had not started off as a scam as originally Xmax (XMX) was a gaming backed platform token, however literally gave up overnight and became a mining backed token with no notice to anyone. However there are no miners backing this XMax Tokens, ist all a sham, a scam! I asked Bitmain, however they are not involved even though the XMAX website stole & uses their logo. There are no
